SHERIFF FEARS A LYNCHING

And Places a Strong Guard Around the Jail to Prevent a Lynching—The Young Woman Still Quite Ill, but is Now Out of Danger.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 11.—Dock Mack, a negro, has been arrested at this place and taken before Miss Katie Bandy for identification.

Miss Bandy went into hysterics, immediately declaring that Mack was the negro who so brutally assaulted her on last Monday night a week ago on Enterprise street.

The young woman is still quite ill, but is now thought to be out of danger.

Sheriff Bowden has a strong guard around the jail to prevent a lynching.

Prominent citizens went before Judge Call, of the circuit court, and it was decided to call a special grand jury to hear the evidence in this, the first case of its kind ever to occur in Jacksonville. The jury met Monday and the negro will, no doubt receive a speedy trial.

A strong chain of circumstantial evidence has been woven around this negro. He was seen leaving the scene and the two negroes who saw him are held in jail as witnesses.

Mullet Supper and Free Fight.

Americus, Ga., March 5.—In a general fight among negroes at a mullet supper, on a plantation near the city of Americus, a hundred pistol shots were fired promiscuously and with the usual result of two killed outright and several others wounded. After the single kerosene lamp was extinguished by a bullet, the shooting in the dark became general. The shootfest was only a customary pleasure attendant upon such occasions and resulted from no specific cause.

GREENE AND GAYNAR CASE.

Is Called In Appeal Court in the City of New Orleans.

New Orleans, March 5.—The celebrated case of Benj. F. Greene and John T. Gaynor, charged with conspiracy against the United States government, was called for argument here Tuesday before the United States circuit court of appeals.

This case has now been pending for more than seven years in one form or another, involving arguments before judicial bodies of this country, Canada and England.

After the original indictment had been found in Savannah, Ga., in 1899 there followed about two years of preliminary examination in New York, where the defendants resided. Then following a brief hearing in Savannah, they were for more than three years fugitives in Canada while the United States government carried their case to the privy council in England before finally securing their extradition. In January, 1906, their trial began in Savannah, Ga., nearly five years after they had been first taken there for trial.

They were declared guilty last April on charges of conspiracy, embezzlement and presenting false claims. Convictions were secured on the claim that they conspired to defraud the United States government by inducing the acceptance of their bids at a higher cost than conditions warranted on contract work in Savannah harbor.

They were sentenced to four years' imprisonment each and to pay a fine of $575,000, which equals the entire amount paid them by the government for the Savannah work. They are now in jail at Macon pending the result of the present appeal.

Before the case was called, attorneys for Greene and Gaynor announced that the appeal is based on nearly 200 assignments of error, classified under 15 subjects including the extradition proceedings, the statutes of limitations the question of whether New York or Georgia courts had jurisdiction, and the claim that the jury which convicted was not legally qualified.

Chicago, March 5.—The trial of Sergeant John A. Griffin, of troop A, of the Ninth cavalry, negro, for the killing of Corporal Herbert Taylor, at Fort Sheridan last Christmas, was started with unusual expedition before Judge Landis, in the federal court Monday night. Before court was adjourned, a jury had been selected, and attorneys for the United States and for the defense has completed their opening addresses. It was made plain at the outset that Assistant U. S. District Attorney Debyns will demand the death penalty. He characterized the killing of Taylor as malicious and premeditated and rejected all ventrismen with conscientious scruples against the death penalty.

Discussed Immigration Bill.

Victoria, B. C., March 5.—Advices were received by the steamer Empress of China from Tokio, that a conference of elder statesmen and cabinet members was held on Feb. 16 to discuss the amended immigration bill projected by the United States. The protest against the bill was withdrawn in appreciation of president Roosevelt's efforts to bring about a speedy settlement of the differences between the United States and Japan. A letter was reached at the meeting that a passport would be issued to the Japanese for the United States.

Now, I am pleased to say, it has not been necessary for me to take any medicine for Rheumatism since February last. I feel that I recommended it to you has had the same results.
